Wildcat Walkouts Embarrass Ruether

UAW - GM Negotiations Get Started

DETROIT (AP) — The leaders of the CIO United Auto Workers said Wednesday that wildcat walkouts idling some 45,000 General Motors employees around the country are "sabotaging national negotiations."

They ordered the strikes ended.

More than 13,000 Ford Motor Co. employees also were off their jobs because of other unauthorized stoppages, boosting the day's walkout total to about 58,000 in nearly a score of widely scattered plants.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Vice President John W. Livingston said the walkouts were embarrassing them as they entered contract talks with General Motors Wednesday afternoon.

The two officers dispatched telegrams to local union presidents at all GM plants instructing them to do what they can to stem the tide of strikes.

"The unauthorized stoppages," they said, "have the effect of sabotaging national negotiations to the point where the entire membership suffers."

They added that General Motors will not negotiate on local issues where strikes are in progress.

"The entire principle of unionism, teamwork and mutual responsibility is at stake," the telegram read. "There can be no excuse for any leadership deserting these principles at this time regardless of any existing situation."

Reuther went into the GM talks after signing the far-reaching three-year agreement the UAW reached Monday with Ford. This gave Ford's 140,000 employees the first modified guaranteed wage plan in industry.

Both Reuther and Ford Vice President John S. Bugas called the contract a "historic agreement bringing new job security to Ford workers."

But while they praised the pact, a large segment of skilled workers at Ford's big Dearborn Rouge plant condemned it. Their objections stemmed mainly from the fact that skilled employees fell short of the 30-cent hourly wage boost they were asking.

The skilled workers were given raises of 8 to 18 cents an hour in addition to the 6 to 8 cents which unskilled workers were given.

Striking crane operators at the Rouge plant held a meeting Wednesday and voted unanimously to reject the contract. One of them was cheered when he yelled, "Lord have mercy on any crane operator who goes into that plant."

Joining in the stoppage were machine repairmen and other maintenance men and 5,000 tool and die workers. About 8,000 Rouge workers in all were idle on the day shift.

ASK $1.25 MILLION FOR SPECIAL STUDIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday asked Congress for a supplemental appropriation of 1 1/2 million dollars for special White House projects such as study of "the entire question of disarmament."

Press secretary James C. Hagerty put it that way in announcing that the request for funds for the fiscal year starting July 1 had been sent to the capital.

Hagerty said other study projects are:

1. International understanding and cooperation, headed by Nelson A. Rockefeller.
2. Improved coordination in foreign economic policy, under Joseph M. Dodge.
3. Coordination of a public works planning program, directed by Maj. Gen. John S. Bragdon, retired.

FORD, UAW SIGN CONTRACT

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. and CIO United Auto Workers Wednesday signed their new three-year contract. Both said it was an historic agreement bringing new job security to Ford workers.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, said the agreement incorporating a modified guaranteed wage plan, shows that the Communists are wrong when they claim that free management and free labor can't function together.

"The Ford Motor Co. deserves a great deal of credit for the courage and wisdom they have demonstrated in making this agreement possible," Reuther said.

OPEN STEEL WAGE TALKS — Negotiations opened between U. S. Steel and the United Steel Workers at Pittsburgh, with word out that the Union seeks a record-breaking raise this year, and a guaranteed wage next year. Among the negotiators, who have until June 30th to reach agreement, are (left to right): John Stephens, Vice President of U. S. Steel; David J. McDonald, President of United Steel Workers and Clifford Hood, President of U. S. Steel.

Guaranteed Wage Apparently Ruled Out Of ISW, Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The nation's three biggest steel producing firms gathered around separate bargaining tables Wednesday with the CIO United Steel Workers intent on work-out a wage settlement before June 30 — the union's strike deadline.

Union committees headed by president David J. McDonald presented demands for a substantial wage increase to Bethlehem Steel Corp. Wednesday morning and to Republic Steel Corp. Wednesday afternoon.

Orders Probe Of Licensing Of Safe Deposit Boxes

CHICAGO (AP) — State Treasurer Warren E. Wright today ordered an investigation of safe deposit box licensees as a result of the burglary of the Joseph Cacciatore & Co. safe deposit vault last week-end.

Wright said statutes require safe deposit companies not affiliated with banks to get licenses from the state treasurer. Annual inspections are required. Failure to have safeguards, including a burglar alarm, could result in revocation of license and a fine of $100 to $500 for each day of violation.

Burglars broke open 388 safe deposit boxes at the Cacciatore vault after boring up into the vault from the basement.

Many of those cleaned out were widows and widowers.

Peter Franco, 76, said $400 he kept as a burial fund was taken from his box.

Mrs. Lucille Isallo, a widow, reported she lost her life savings of $2,000 and a treasured heirloom diamond ring.

Victor Cacciatore, son of the owner, said no insurance policy is offered by any company to make up such losses.

"We advise against putting money in safe deposit boxes rather than a bank," he said.

AUGUST DRAFT CALLS FOR 10,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Wednesday issued a draft call for 10,000 men in August, the same as announced earlier for May, June and July.

Including the August call, there now have been 1,928,430 men drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of Selective Service in September 1950.

Study Of Victims Of H-Bomb Fallout May Save Other Lives

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Some steps to escape harm from H-bomb fallout came Wednesday from a study of Pacific natives dusted with it a year ago.

Clothing, or any shelter, would have prevented skin burns, the main injury they suffered.

Early decontamination of skin by bathing or other means would have reduced this injury, if fall-out did hit the skin.

Had they moved out of the fall-out area soon, they would have had less total exposure to X-rays causing general radiation sickness.

Sixty-four Marshall Islanders showered with the heaviest doses of H-bomb fall-out in March 1954, all recovered from skin burns and sores, said the report to the American Medical Assn.

The report made no mention of genetic hazards, but said three women pregnant at the time have since had their babies, all normal.

Hope For Break In Britain's Rail Strike

By EDWIN SHANKE

LONDON (AP) — Britain's railway strike leaders met their government bosses Wednesday and a joint statement held out hope of a break in the deadlocked nationwide rail walkout.

"Both sides are agreed that there is now nothing which prevents them from dealing with each other in a spirit of mutual confidence in the good faith of the other," the statement said.

It was issued at the end of a meeting between Jim Baty, leader of the 67,000 striking locomotive engineers and firemen, and Sir Brian Robertson, chairman of the British Transport Commission which runs the state-owned railways.

The statement added, however, that the opposing sides did not discuss the question of higher wage differentials for engineers over less skilled workers in the industry.

ASLEF is demanding a raise of $1.12 a week over present base pay of $27.30 to restore its members' traditional wage differentials. An industrywide pay increase last January narrowed the differentials.

Lightning Strikes Plane, Pilot Lands Without Difficulty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy C-54 transport was struck by lightning twice Wednesday on a stormy flight from Glenview, Ill., to nearby Anacostia Naval Air Station and one aileron knocked off.

The pilot, George Harvey of East Alton, Ill., landed the plane, with its 27 passengers, without difficulty, however. He said he didn't know how badly damaged the plane was until he got out and looked at it.

"The right aileron looked like it had been riddled with buckshot and the left wing, which had lost its aileron, was filled with holes," Harvey said.

The pilot said the plane was first hit over West Virginia while at about 10,000 feet with no apparent damage. The second bolt, over Springfield, Va., knocked off the aileron.

"The peculiar part of it," Harvey said, "was that all the radios kept working. Lightning usually knocks out your radios."

The Navy plane was in a regularly scheduled shuttle flight.

Nehru, Top Soviet Leaders Confer On World Problems

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru conferred for hours Wednesday with top Soviet leaders on a wide range of world problems.

He started the second day of his two-week state visit to Russia with a conference in the Foreign Ministry with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon said the two statesmen "covered almost every current question" in world affairs.

Nehru then went to Premier Nikolai Bulganin's office where they discussed issues which are creating international tensions.

Menon disclosed none of the topics discussed, but other sources suggested Nehru and Molotov might have explored the Formosan situation, the Big Four conference planned for this summer, Moscow's invitation to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to come here for talks, and the recent Belgrade meetings between Soviet leaders and President Tito of Yugoslavia.

In the morning, Bulganin gave a reception for Nehru and his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi. It was attended by Molotov, Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan and former Premier Georgi Malenkov. A luncheon given by Molotov followed.

KEE GREETS FIFTY NATION'S TOP GOLFERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty top golfers from 26 nations got a hearty greeting Wednesday from President Eisenhower, who expressed hope they will all break par in the $150,000 International Golf Championship beginning Thursday.

Sideline by a steady drizzle that soaked the Columbia Country Club course and barred practice rounds, the players generally took it easy and enjoyed their visit to the White House, a luncheon at the National Press Club and the annual International Golf Tournament dinner Wednesday night.

Eisenhower, an ardent golfer himself, shook hands with each player and had a few words of good wishes for each man and team. The two-men teams will play for the Canada Cup in addition to the money offered in the individual play.

American Airlines Order 35 4-Engine Turboprop Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines announced Wednesday the placing of an order for 35 four-engine turboprop planes, the first American challenge to British leadership in the commercial jet-propeller field.

The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will make them, for 65 million dollars.

The two companies said delivery of the new airplane, to be called Lockheed Electra, will begin in the latter part of 1958. All 35 planes are to be delivered by mid-1959.

The announcement was expected to cause other airlines, some of which have been seriously considering purchase of Britain's Vickers Viscount, to re-examine U. S. product possibilities.

The joint statement from American and Lockheed said the Electra is of "completely original design." It will have a cruising speed of more than 400 miles an hour, the companies said, giving it "a speed advantage of 100 miles per hour over the fastest turboprop commercial airplane in service today."

In a turboprop plane, jet engines are used to drive propellers. Although classed as a medium-sized plane, the Electra will have a cruising range of 2,000 miles. It is likely it would be most useful on long but not transcontinental flights, such as New York-Chicago and Chicago-Los Angeles. It will seat 64.

Galesburg Woman Killed As Car Hits Pedestrians

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — A Galesburg widow was killed and three other women were injured when an automobile plowed into pedestrians at a downtown intersection Wednesday.

Asst. Police Chief Lester Sippel said the car was driven by D. A. Smith, Galesburg businessman who told officers his accelerator became stuck.

The car hit a group of pedestrians and two other cars.

The victim was Mrs. Lucille McNeill, about 45.

Injured were Mrs. A. P. Taylor, 61; Mrs. John R. McMichael, 48; and Mrs. Eunice Wilkins, all of Galesburg. All were hospitalized but none was believed to be hurt critically.

Police held Smith, about 50, without charge for questioning.

Doctor Lists Medical Triumphs For Next 50 Years

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — The next 50 years will bring these medical triumphs, Dr. L. H. McDaniel, Tyrone, Ark., predicted Wednesday:

Eradication of all human infectious diseases, including TB, through vaccines, drugs and tests to detect disease early.

Successful treatment of cancer by radioactive chemicals or a vaccine containing virus that will attack cancer cells.

The common cold will be "only a memory."

Eye surgeons will restore vision in cases called impossible today.

Prevention of starvation and famine by synthetic production of foodstuffs and vitamins.

Transplanting of vital organs such as heart, kidney, pancreas, and lungs.

A decrease in mental illness. Insulin available in tablet form for diabetes.

Women staying "young, beautiful and shapely indefinitely."

The Salk polio vaccine replaced in a few years by a vaccine made of living virus, altered so as not to cause paralysis.

Dr. McDaniel, speaking to the American Medical Assn., declared medicine has made more progress in the first half of their century than in the 6,000 previous years.

Eisenhower Likes Job Of Being President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last week Dwight Eisenhower sized up the world's toughest job, that of being U. S. President, this way:

"It's a fascinating business."

Wednesday he acted like a man who not only finds it fascinating but also extremely enjoyable.

His weekly news conference lasted 30 lively minutes, and reporters who got together later to check their impressions came to this conclusion:

Rarely has the President been in better form.

Unfortunately, it's impossible to pick out any quote to back this up, for it was his attitude and not what he said that gave this impression. But it was there, nevertheless, in a news conference that had a little of everything, from what amounted to a reciting of the difference between being a prime minister and a president.

Maybe one reason for the President's liveliness was the fact that he had just returned from a reunion of his old classmates at West Point. And maybe, too, it was because one of the first questions put to him dealt with the military, a field on which he naturally feels most at home.

He was asked what he thought about the House's failure to pass a reserve training bill.

Eisenhower promptly started to talk; paused, grinned, and said he supposed it was only natural that he should speak with feeling on this. And so he did speak with feeling, for four minutes.

He said the need for trained men was great since every hamlet and city in atomic warfare is in the front line. After mustering up all his reasons why he felt the reserves are necessary, he wound up with a simple but firm statement.

We must have it, he said.

That got the conference off the ground, as it were, and it flew (Continued On Page 11)

Senate Approves $1.00 An Hour Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic-dominated Senate, rebuffing President Eisenhower for the second day in a row, Wednesday approved a 25-cent increase in the national minimum wage to $1 an hour.

That was 10 cents more than the President had recommended—and called for again just this morning.

The Senate acted unexpectedly, and quickly. Its Labor Committee came out with the $1 figure only Tuesday. Called up this afternoon, the measure was debated for an hour and a quarter. Fewer than 25 senators appeared to be on the floor when it passed on an unrecorded vote.

The bill now goes to the House, where hearings already have started. If it becomes law, some 2,100,000 workers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act would be due for a wage increase next Jan. 1.

Many of these workers in Southern states, and a large number in the textile, lumber, clothing, leather and candy industries.

Plan To Step Up Production Of Nuclear Weapons In '56

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans, with President Eisenhower's approval, to step up the production of nuclear weapons next year to augment a "wide variety" of stockpiled atomic arms.

It also plans an expanded program to develop an atomic-powered airplane, based upon a new approach to ticklish engineering problems discovered during "encouraging" progress last year.

The AEC program was disclosed Wednesday with the release of testimony given by commission officials to a House Appropriations subcommittee.

The officials asked the subcommittee to approve a 30 per cent increase in funds for weapons, for a total of 271 million dollars during the year beginning July 1.

Sir Robert was in Chicago for the installation of a new electronic computing device at Illinois Institute of Technology.

They also requested 134 million dollars—a 33 per cent boost—to develop reactors, or atomic power, growth of H-weapons.

Wants Time Limit On Big Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared Wednesday his "utmost faith and confidence" in Konrad Adenauer and said the German Chancellor "will stand by his allies and friends" in any conference with Russia.

Eisenhower also expressed a willingness to stretch out a forthcoming Big Four chiefs of state meeting over any "period that is reasonable" rather than break it off at the end of three or four days. But he still insisted there must be some time limit, to allow him to meet his duties as president.

The United States, Britain and France have recommended that the conference be held in Geneva from July 18 to 21. Russia has not yet replied.

But the Soviets have proposed that Adenauer come to Moscow to talk about establishing diplomatic and trade relations with the West German Republic.

Eisenhower appeared to regard this as a move to draw Germany away from her Western Allies through gestures of friendship and good will. He opened his news conference by tying the invitation to Adenauer to the establishment of the West German Republic. He called the bid a "logical gesture."

"Now, of course," he said, "the decision of what's to be done about the invitation is exclusively that of the federal government of Western Germany. Chancellor Adenauer himself. The only point I want to make is that we know Chancellor Adenauer. We have the utmost faith and confidence in him, and we know one thing, that he will stand by his allies and friends."

And, he said, he is "not a bit" concerned over the possibility of the setting up of normal diplomatic relations between West Germany and Russia. He described Adenauer—who will be his luncheon guest next Tuesday—as "one of the great statesmen of the world," a "perfectly sound, solid citizen, and I trust him to take care of the interests of Western Germany."

While Russia has jumped on the idea of restricting the Big Four meeting to a specified number of days, Eisenhower said there are constitutional limitations on his going away and staying as long as he pleases. He mentioned the need for acting on legislation enacted by Congress.

"Now," he said, "if it takes four or five days or any other period that is reasonable and will allow me to do my work, that is still acceptable. But we don't want just to make this another propaganda mill, where, if I should leave by compulsion of my duties, then it would look like I was trying to wreck the conference."

He spoke of three to five or six days, but said he just must have an understanding on a limited time.

WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY?

Busy diplomats of several nations are setting out to promote the Formosan negotiations between Red China and the United States which both countries say they are willing to conduct.

This activity began in earnest after President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles reversed America's earlier stand and stripped away the stiff conditions first attached as a prelude to negotiations.

In this effort, in this more receptive attitude toward talks which might lead to a cease-fire in the Formosa strait, the President appears to have the support of a majority in Congress. He even has the declared backing of 12 senators of his own party, who signed a statement to that effect.

But, while these views are being made evident and while foreign diplomats try to bring the prospective negotiators together, a small bloc of American lawmakers is endeavoring to prevent any negotiations at all from taking place.

Their leader, of course, is Senator Knowland, officially listed as the GOP Senate Minority Leader but in fact merely the chief of the faction that gives Mr. Eisenhower his toughest foreign policy opposition.

Terribly sincere, Knowland apparently believes that even to sit down with the Communists is to "appease" them. He seems to feel that we have no talent for standing our ground.

The logical thought following from this view is that all negotiations with Communist be barred. Senator Jenner of Indiana recently came close to that proposition when he offered a resolution to ban any conference—or even steps leading to a conference—that might result in the transfer of any territory to a Communist power.

If there are to be no negotiations, then tense international situations either cannot be resolved or can only be settled by war.

The Communists do not win ALL the political battles. Circumstances change sometimes in favor of the free nations. And when they do, negotiations may offer solutions that earlier seemed impossible. Even when we detect no evident improvement in our favor, strategy shifts in Communist headquarters may lead them to yield a point here and there.

These are possibilities we must be ever alert to capitalize. We can never shut the door on negotiations so long as there is any sensible hope at all they might prove productive.

Senator Knowland and his small but vocal band of followers are trying by their steady shouting to freeze this government in rigid, inflexible positions. They are trying to impose a veto in foreign policy fields where they have no proper right to exercise it.

They are in fact trying to take over the management of this nation's diplomacy, which the Constitution places in the hands of the President. Fortunately, most of their lawmaking colleagues seem to feel that management should remain where it belongs, and that this country should be free to negotiate when negotiation may be to its advantage—free to "wage peace" as well as war.

The Mature Parent

'Whole' Parent Is Equally Important as 'Whole' Child

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Walter started acting up right after lunch. His mother came downstairs to find him to sleep in an exciting game. It consisted of running round and round the dining-room table and shouting something that sounded like, "I'm a Woggle-Goggle-Moggie, look out, look out!"

He wouldn't stop. Asked to put on his outdoor clothes, he just ran faster and shouted louder. Finally his mother slapped him, pushed him upstairs and shut him in his room.

Heavened himself on her for this treatment. Later, entering the bathroom, she discovered that he'd torn open her new, birthday box of bath powder and spilled its contents over the mat.

Instantly, into her mind came this thought: "What would Mother do in this situation?"

The thought brought mounting panic. For Walter's mother didn't know how her mother would treat a child's retaliatory action. As a little girl, she had never gone in for it. As a punished little daughter, Walter's mother would never have dared to take such action.

Indeed, she wouldn't have even dared to know that she wanted to take it. Thus, her mother had not been able to give her a demonstration of the proper adult reaction to a child's vengeful action.

So, Walter's action appeared strange and monstrous to her. Helplessly, his mother thought, "Oh, what am I to do with this Terrible Child?"

That is what happens to us when we have chosen to lean on other people's guidance instead of on knowledge of ourselves.

So, I have to say to Walter's mother that he only appears as a terrible child to her because she's got an investment in forgetting what a terrible child she was. She shrinks from realizing how often she wanted to attack her mother because she still depends on mother.

This is always the problem of the dependent person, regardless of his age. Our revengeful feelings toward some supporting authority must remain hidden lest the authority suspect our disloyalty and withdraw his support. Under such circumstances, the self-knowledge essential to parenthood is impossible.

Today, everyone writes about the "whole" child. I'm writing about "whole" parents—people brave enough to recover those lost segments of childhood experience that were gouged from our memories by fear of Mother's disapproval.

When we've got our own wholeness back, we can help Walter find his. We can refuse our demand that he clean up the bathroom with the mercy we know we needed ourselves as a punished child.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Is it constitutionally right and fair for the government to fire a federal employee as a security risk without letting him confront his accuser or even know who he is?

The Supreme Court had a chance to give a final answer Monday. But it took a detour. Someday it may face the question again. Meanwhile, the government can continue using secret informants in security cases.

Critics have condemned this practice. They argue a man whose job and future are at stake should be allowed to face and cross-examine his accuser. But the Justice Department says secret informants are sometimes necessary for national security.

Under both Presidents Truman and Eisenhower government officials have been free, whenever they wished, to fire a man on the basis of testimony from witnesses the man might never be allowed to see or know.

In May 1953, Dr. John P. Peters, senior professor of medicine at Yale University, was fired as a part-time consultant to the U. S. Public Health Service. He had denied he was a Communist and officials of his own agency had previously cleared him.

The Loyalty Review Board reopened his case and decided he ought to be out of the government on grounds of questionable loyalty. But even the review board didn't know who some of his accusers were.

He appealed to the federal courts, raising the question of constitutionality in the use of secret witnesses. Monday the high court said it wouldn't give a ruling on a constitutional question including Peters', unless it had to. It found another point on which to decide Peters' case.

It said the Loyalty Review Board had no right to dig into his case after officials in his own agency had cleared him. The court said the board had been set up to hear appeals from federal employees fired by their own agencies, not to go opening up cases of people found to be all right by their own agency.

Since the Peters firing, the Eisenhower administration has abolished the Loyalty Review Board set up under Truman. A man fired as a security risk by officials of his own agency now has no appeal unless he goes to federal courts.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

MESCALERO, N.M. (AP)—Leaves from a touring notebook:

Many a Park Avenue father heaves a sigh at the cost of throwing a debutante ball for his daughter.

But he'd break down in tears if he had to foot the bills for introducing her to society on an Apache Indian reservation.

A debutante ball lasts only a single evening under the white man's idea of what makes a good party. The Apaches have a more muscular and red-blooded approach.

When an Indian father announces he has a daughter who is ready to set up teepee-keeping, it isn't just a shindig for a few close friends of the family. The whole tribe shows up. And the feasting and celebrating goes on for four days and nights. When the Apaches have themselves a ball, they like to bounce some real echoes off the mountain.

The "coming of age ceremony" of an Apache maiden, usually held when she is 12 to 14 years old, in the old days was a time when the nomadic tribes fulfilled their religious as well as social obligations.

The rites drew the wandering groups together, gave them an occasion to swap tall tales on the hunt, exchange gossip and renew their ancient belief by the mutual performance of rituals.

In the simple past when buffalo were plentiful the warriors in the Indian maiden's family usually found it reasonably easy to provide meat for a four-day feast.

But with the price of beef what it is today the situation has changed. Few Apache fathers now could pick up the tab for a daughter's debut. So the tribe itself throws the party.

Only one girl, Iva Lee Enjady, 14, will go through the social ring at this year's annual festival, July 14.

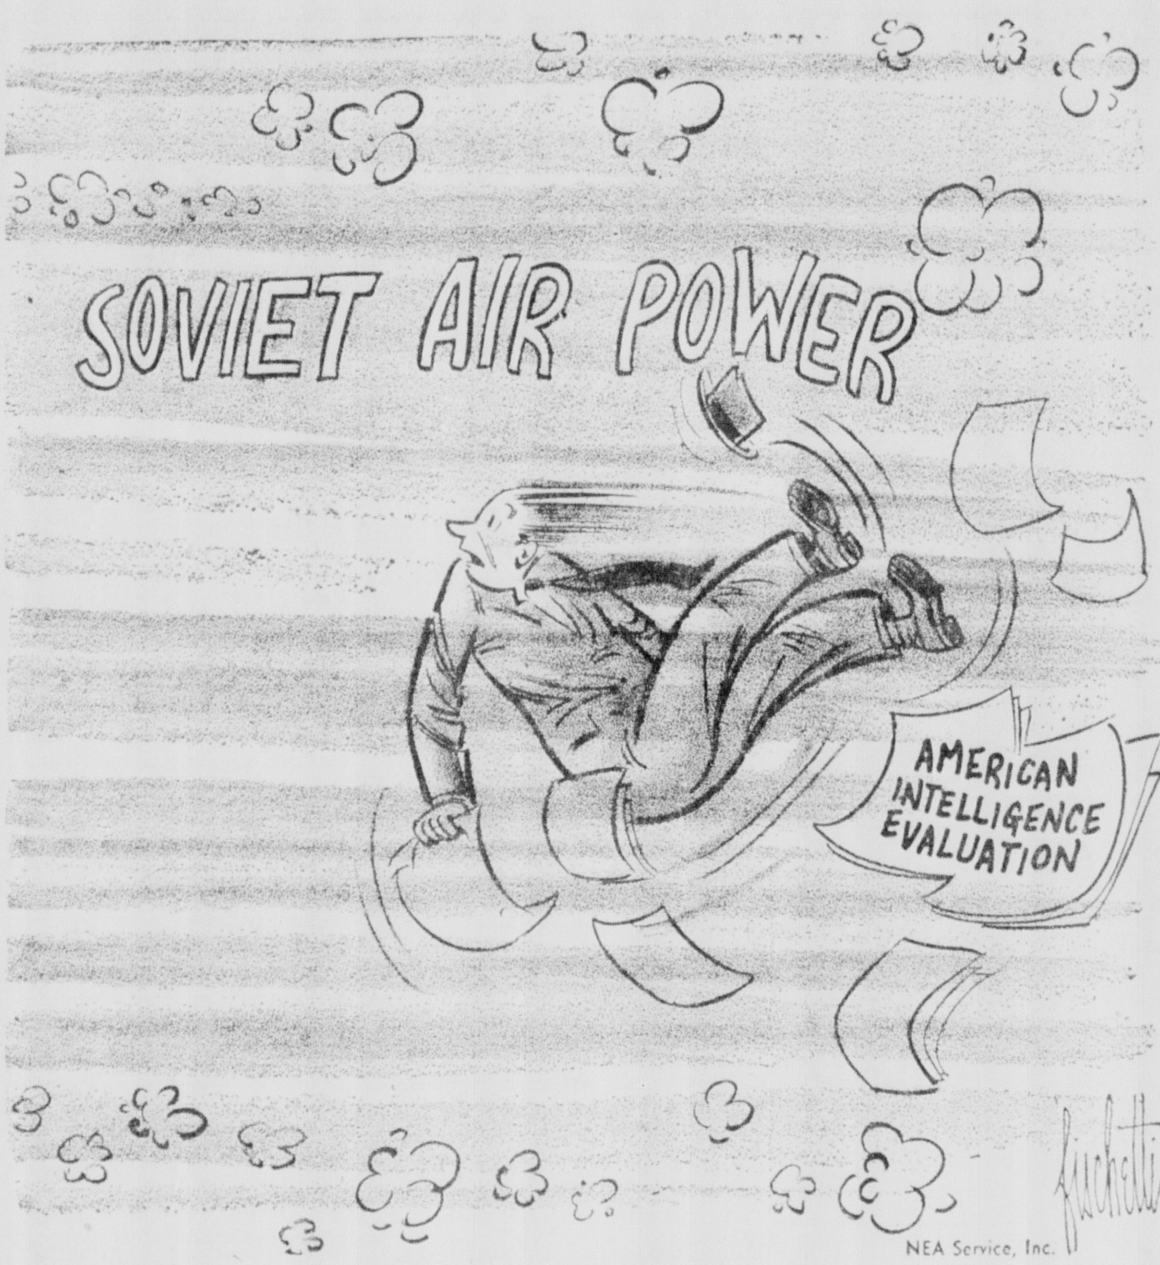

During the entire period little Iva Lee must wear a grave, dignified expression. She must particularly beware of excessive laughter. The Apaches have a theory that too much laughter causes premature wrinkling. A theory that now also seems prevalent among many lady palefaces who never saw a reservation.

Give them (parents of delinquent children) a big fine, not the jail. The jail is only for guys that steal and hit people on the head and things like that.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Rare Muscle Disease Seems to Be Increasing

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Like a number of other diseases which were formerly considered rather rare myasthenia gravis appears to be more frequent than was previously believed. First described in the 17th century it did not become fully recognized until 1878.

Since then, at least until recently, there has been little sustained effort to learn more about this disease.

Before discussing this further I should like to say a word of caution to one correspondent who says, "I have every symptom of myasthenia gravis. I can't walk without aid, have a hard time to swallow and my eyes are blurry. I can't talk, that is to keep up a conversation, because I get so nervous. My left hand quivers all of the time."

The Writer of this letter should not jump to the conclusion that the cause of the difficulties is Myasthenia gravis since some of the symptoms do not fit. Actually, it is highly dangerous for a patient—even a doctor—to make a diagnosis on himself or herself.

At present it should be said that myasthenia gravis is a disease of unknown origin so far lacking any sure cure. It may attack at any age in either sex and is not confined to an economic level, nation or race.

Although the symptoms vary, extreme fatigue is typical. Drooping of the eyelids, double vision, difficulty in walking, difficulty in holding up the head or arms, trouble in smiling, speaking or swallowing are among the most frequent symptoms.

Only The Muscles which are moved voluntarily and not those which are automatic as in the heart are involved. Although no one speaks with too great confidence, it is felt that the condition is the result of some change in the chemical balance which prevents the nerve impulse to the affected muscles from passing from the brain to the muscles themselves.

Since the symptoms are not always alike the victims of myasthenia gravis may have had the disease a long time before a diagnosis is made. In one case a patient lived with myasthenia gravis for 40 years without knowing it. In another a patient with the disease tells the incredible story that when she was a child her mother refused to let her eat for 72 hours after an "attack" apparently because the mother thought this youngster was "lazy."

Now New Zest has been added to attack on this disease. A nonprofit organization—the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, Academy of Medicine, 2 East 108th Street, New York 29, New York—made up of citizens, members of whole families or friends have been afflicted with the disease and of a number of prominent physicians has been established. The principal purpose of this foundation is to raise funds for research into the cause and cure of myasthenia gravis by enlisting the interest of those who have friends with this strange affliction and of others who are interested.

In December 1954 this Foundation sponsored the First International Conference on Myasthenia Gravis at which 20 scientific papers were presented. Ultimately this new stimulus to research should bear practical fruit.

Railroads Are Bucking ICC To Enter Truck Business

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The battle between the railroads and the motor trucking industry is a two-ring affair.

In one ring the railroads are trying to keep the truckers from getting any of the freight business now served by rail lines.

In the other ring, the railroads are trying to get into the motor truck business themselves, on an ever-increasing scale.

In the middle is the U. S. Interstate Commerce Commission, which has to referee both bouts.

From railway management's point of view, motor truck lines have been muscling into the railroads' once-exclusive freight business to such an extent that they have to muscle back to survive.

One of the key cases is Frisco Transportation Company's operation, going back more than 10 years. Originally the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Company bought out six private truck lines and established Frisco as a subsidiary to run them.

ICC licensed Frisco to operate "auxiliary and supplementary" service to its main rail line. But in issuing the certificate, these restrictions were inadvertently left out.

ICC ORDERED the limiting phrases put back in. Frisco contested. It claimed the right to operate an unrestricted motor freight service in six states from Mississippi to Texas.

Last April ICC denied Frisco the right to unrestricted truck operation and limited it to auxiliary motor services between "key points" in accord with past rail transportation policy.

This key point operation is best illustrated in the Santa Fe Trails Transportation Company case. This A.T. & S.F. subsidiary has been licensed to operate a supplementary truck service along its rail line from Kansas City to Dodge City, Kan., and from Dodge City to Denver.

Santa Fe now seeks to drop Dodge City as a key point so as to give through truck service from Kansas City to Denver. ICC turned down this petition in February. But the railway company is asking for a reconsideration which is pending.

Another case still pending involves Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific's subsidiary Rock Island Motor Transport Company. Last December ICC granted Rock Island the right to operate an unrestricted truck service from Chicago to Omaha.

AMERICAN TRUCKING ASSOCIATIONS and affected independent motor carriers in the area have asked for reconsideration of this decision. They also ask that key point restrictions be applied at Omaha, Des Moines, Davenport, Rock Island and Moline.

Their argument is that existing motor carriers now provide adequate truck service between Chicago and Omaha. The trucking industry maintains that if the decision is not reversed, it will lead to general railroad usurpation of truck business.

New York Central, Central of Georgia and other railway companies are also seeking to have key point restrictions lifted. They seek to offer truck service over their entire system areas.

A slightly different approach to the problem is being made by Southern Pacific Railway Company.

It first sought ICC authority to operate Pacific Freight Lines, an independent motor truck carrier, prior to purchase by the railroad and its management as a subsidiary Pacific Motor Trucking Company.

Major independent truck operators in California backed S.P.'s application. In January ICC denied the railroad temporary authority to operate the truck service on an unrestricted basis. But a new hearing is now being set up in which S.P. seeks permanent authority to get into the trucking business.

SINCE PASSAGE of the Motor Carriage Act of 1935, ICC has repeatedly ruled that competition between motor carriers and railroads must be maintained. This comes under the general policy that one form of transportation must not control another.

A major change in this policy has now been recommended by the President's Advisory Committee on Transportation, headed by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks. This committee would end the present requirements that the ICC administer the Interstate Commerce Act to "preserve the inherent advantages" and competition between all forms of transportation.

The Weeks Cabinet committee recommends that this policy be changed so as to "reduce economic regulation . . . restrictions, conditions or limitations on individual modes of transport."

What this is taken to mean is that the railroads would be permitted to enter other branches of the transportation industry denied them in the past. Specifically, it would give the railroads a green light to compete with the truckers.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—American men can take a bow. A French beauty says they're even more polite than her countrymen.

This is a strong statement. Frenchmen being noted for their courteous manners. But actress Nicole Maurey, visiting America for the third time, makes this observation:

"I think American men are much more courteous at all times. They remember the little things, like opening a door for a woman and helping with her wrap. Those are the things that every woman loves; she wants to be pampered and made comfortable."

"To the Frenchman, such matters are not too important—unless he wants to make love to the girl. Then no one can beat him for politeness."

"But to the American, courtesy is an everyday concern. It is part of the difference of attitude. Here the woman is important. In France, she is not so."

Despite her feelings about the woman's position here, Nicole is not ready to settle in this country. She feels it is bad for an actress' career.

"I think a European makes a mistake to stay in Hollywood and wait for jobs," she observed. "If the studios know you are here and not working, they think there must be a reason. But if you keep active in Europe, they will send for you." That system has certainly operated in her case.

Manners Make Friends

You can spot a real "lady" not by the way she treats people who might be important to her, but by the way she treats those who serve her—the clerk in the store, the paper boy, the cleaning woman, etc.

A real "lady" doesn't save her courtesy and consideration for those she feels it is important to impress.

THOUGHTS

And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake Luke 21:17.

Hate no one—hate their vices, not themselves.—Brainard.

Widow Must Learn How To Make Own Decisions

During all of their 25 years of marriage her husband made the decisions. Now that he is gone she has no confidence at all in her ability to decide and choose for herself.

She writes: "I was married for 25 years and my husband always made the decisions, as he was that kind of person. It had to be as he said, chose, and decided."

"Now that he has passed away it is difficult for me to make even the smallest decision. I have no one to turn to for advice. My grown children don't help me but they feel free to criticize my decisions and my choices. What can I do?"

You don't really have to please anyone now but yourself. You deferred to your husband for so long, you are afraid of deciding for yourself. So you are taking the criticism of your children too seriously.

From here on in start asking yourself one question when you have to make a decision or a choice. That question is: "What do I want?"

DON'T FEAR MAKING MISTAKE

Never mind what someone else may think of your choice or whether or not your grown children will approve of your decision.

They are free to decide things for themselves. So are you now. Go ahead and enjoy your freedom to decide and choose instead of being afraid of making a mistake.

You'll find it's fun to make decisions, once you realize that the important person you have to please is yourself.

And once you get the hang of making up your own mind about what you want to do and going ahead and doing it, you will find that life is more fun and that you will gain a new feeling of freedom and self-confidence.

It's never too late to start thinking for yourself and depending on your own judgment.

Woman Suspected Of Murder Tries Suicide

Mrs. Laura Olive, under indictment with her husband for the May 15 slayings of an Alton foundry worker and his intended bride, attempted suicide by hanging in her cell at the Madison county jail in Edwardsville it was learned here Wednesday.

It was the third time the 18 year old former Jacksonville woman has attempted to take her life, officials said. Last Christmas week while she was held in the Jacksonville city jail as a burglary suspect she also attempted to hang herself, but was restrained by alert officers.

Sheriff T. Ogle of Madison county confirmed the woman's latest effort to destroy herself. Mrs. Olive, the sheriff stated, was found hanging from a rope fashioned from strips torn from a blanket of her cell bunk. Her suicide attempt was discovered by the sheriff's wife, matron at the jail, while making a routine visit to the women's quarters.

Mrs. Olive was revived immediately, was able to eat her evening meal, and appeared to be fully recovered from her experience, according to the sheriff.

Both Mrs. Olive and her husband, James (Cowboy) Olive, 25, entered pleas of innocent when arraigned last week in Madison county circuit court on two indictments returned against them in the pistol slayings May 15 of Joseph Greene, 24, of Godfrey, Ill., and his fiancée, Miss Dorothy Ray Browder, 20, of Alton.

The Olives, who are Negroes, have been in custody without bond since they were returned to Madison county May 29, two days after their arrest at Brownsville, Texas.

A double watch has been placed on the women's jail quarters after the incident.

Jacksonville police, who cooperated with Alton authorities in the case when the Olives were being sought, said she once tried to kill herself in Chicago.

Full Speed Ahead On Pipe Line Activities

Pipe laying crews of the Torson Construction Co. are working at three locations as Jacksonville's 23 mile transmission line to the Illinois river rapidly approaches the day when millions of gallons of water will course through the big conduit, spelling the end of uncertain supply.

Crew "A" is installing 30 inch pipe along the highway west of Chapin, near the property of L. Carlton Anderson.

Crew "B" is putting down 24 inch pipe along Massey Lane adjacent to the property of Otis Freeman and Pearl Boddy.

Crew "C" is making the earth fly at the intersection of Superior and Hardin avenues, not far from the water treatment plant.

Casler & Stapleton, consulting engineers, reported to the city council this week that 93,580 feet of 30 inch pipe, and 2,699 feet of 24 inch pipe have been installed as of June 6, a total of 18.23 miles.

Total working days under the contract are 160; total working days to date 173; total working days charged to date 136; days lost because of bad weather 34, with three holidays; days remaining in contract 24.

The engineers' report showed that Price Brothers, Dayton, Ohio, makers of prestressed concrete pipe, is continuing delivery of pipe along Michigan avenue between Hardin and South Main street, and across the Otis Freeman and Routt property between Massey Lane and Lincoln avenue.

Price Brothers have delivered a total of 19.37 miles of pipe.

The Caldwell Engineering Co. of this city has completed approximately 98% of its contract for the pumping station and other equipment at the water plant in this city. The engineers said work on piping and relief valves at the treatment plant is proceeding quite well. It is expected that the relief valve will be on hand within the next 10 days and should be completed well in advance of the transmission line.

Work at the river pumping station is nearing completion. The work remaining is the chlorine discharge piping—a small amount of electrical work, completion of rubbing the concrete walls, outside fencing and painting of the building.

LIEUTENANT GETS ACTION

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—At the request of Lt. R. T. Borntraeger, base information officer, police set up a radar timing unit at the Memphis Naval Air Station to cut down speeding.

First caught by the unit—Borntraeger.

Fine—$10 and costs.

WHATSIT?—Nobody, not even her owners, knows for sure what a cabbit is, but this is one. She looks like a cat. She also looks like a rabbit. The freak, who lives with her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Fellows of Urbana, Ill., has a two-and-a-half-inch tail—like a rabbit—and her huge hind paws (one of which has six toes!) look like those of a cottontail. With her rabbit-like legs, the two-year-old freak feline half runs, half hops and isn't much good at escaping dogs or climbing trees. So she spends a lot of time just sitting with her small forelegs crossed like a Buddha in a contemplative pose.

Student Nurse Here, Albert Deaton, Wed

In a very impressive wedding ceremony performed in Beardstown Sunday afternoon Miss Mary Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Mae Thompson of Beardstown and the late Henry Thompson, became the bride of Albert Deaton, son of Mrs. Madrona Deaton, 230 Pine Street, Jacksonville.

The double ring ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. Boyd Ridd, pastor of the First Methodist church at the church at 4 o'clock before an altar decorated with white gladioli and carnations and banked with ferns. White satin bows decorated the church pews.

Mrs. Charles Hobrock served as the organist throughout the ceremony and played "O Perfect Love" very softly. She also played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss L. Lee Cooper, who sang, "O Promise Me" and "Because."

Mrs. Myron Thompson, sister-in-law of the bride, served as the matron of honor and Mrs. Robert Draine of Rushville, classmate of the bride, was the bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns made of aqua colored net over taffeta with strapless bodice and matching stoles. The floor length skirts were gathered full and both wore headbands made of matching net in the shape of small leaves. Both carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Candles were lighted by the young candlelighters, Judy Steele, cousin of the bride, and Mary Sue Sonneborn, friend of the bride. Miss Steele wore a floor length gown of blue nylon and a wrist corsage of pink carnations. Miss Sonneborn's gown was made of pink frosted organza and she wore a wrist corsage of blue carnations.

For her wedding the bride wore a traditional wedding gown made of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin. The gown was beautifully designed with a portrait neckline, accented with iridescent sequins and seed pearls, a fitted bodice, long fitted sleeves ending in points at the wrists. The bouffant lace skirt lengthened gracefully into a Cathedral train. A Juliet cap of satin leaves held in place her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried pink rose buds on a white Bible from which fell satin streamers.

Donald Werries of Jacksonville, cousin of the groom, served as best man.

Ushers were William Deaton, brother of the groom and Robert Sonneborn of Greenfield, friend of the couple.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thompson wore a light blue jersey dress with pink accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Deaton, mother of the groom, wore a pink nylon dress and her corsage was of white roses.

Reception At Church

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors.

A four-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom formed the center piece of the bride's table. A color scheme of blue and white was used in the table decorations.

Those assisting with the serving were Miss Patsy Baer, Miss Joan Davidsmeyer and Miss Marilyn Tomlinson.

The couple left for a week's wedding trip to the Ozarks and upon their return the bride will continue in nurses training and complete her course in August at which time she will go to Kansas City where the groom is stationed with the U. S. Air Force.

The bride graduated from Beardstown High school with the class of 1952 and is now a senior at the Passavant Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Jacksonville.

The groom graduated from the Jacksonville High school with the class of 1952, has served 28 months in the U. S. Air Force. He is now stationed at Grandview Air Force Base in Kansas City, Missouri.

Out of town guests at the wedding and reception were from Chicago, Batavia, Jacksonville, Greenfield, Quincy, Mt. Sterling, Macomb of Virginia, Rushville, Winchester and Kansas City, Missouri.

Virginia Hutchens, Formerly Of Greene, Bride At Robinson

CARROLLTON — Miss Virginia Lou Hutchens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hutchens of Robinson, formerly of this city, was married to Robert C. Helm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenard Helm also of Robinson, Sunday, June 5, in the First Methodist church in Robinson.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. B. Walkington, before an altar formed of baskets of white daisies and greenery with a background of lighted tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina gown of embroidered organdy over net and taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with a tiny ruffle. The bouffant skirt of organdy was worn over a dior hoop and highlighted down the front with three tiers of crystal pleats. Her shoulder length veil of French illusion was secured to a half hat of horsehair braid and straw.

She carried a bouquet of white daisies, lily of the valley and stephanotis on a white Bible with streamers.

Miss Doris Anne Woodard of Robinson was the maid of honor. Her ballerina dress was of blue dotted swiss fashioned with a square neckline etched with lace. The bouffant skirt formed a dior silhouette. Her hat was of blue horsehair braid. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow daisies.

The best man was Donald Kaley and the ushers were Bob Hutchens, brother of the bride, Vaughn Kaley, Don Hanna and Bob Wiman all of Robinson.

Parents Entertain

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with Mrs. Vaughn

Kaley and Mrs. Don Hanna, sisters of the groom, cutting and serving the cake. Punch was served by Mrs. James Dutcher. Miss Marilyn Rains had charge of the guest book.

The Hutchens home was decorated with lilies and greenery and tiny wedding bells formed a background for the table from which the wedding cake was served. On either side of the table were tall vases of lilies. The two serving tables were covered with a cloth of lined organdy with a floor length ruffle of the same material.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm left for a week's wedding trip to Kentucky Lake and upon their return will make their home with the bride's parents, at 705 North Lincoln in Robinson until fall when they will reside in Rolla, Mo.

Mrs. Helm is a graduate of the high school in Robinson, class of 1952, and studied at MacMurray College in Jacksonville. She was a kindergarten teacher in the Palestine school the past year and will attend summer school this year in Terre Haute, Indiana. She is a member of the Delta Theta Tau National Sorority.

Mr. Helm is a graduate of the high school in Robinson class of 1952 and will be a senior this fall at the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, Mo. He will be employed during the summer by the Ohio Oil Company at Robinson.

Attending the wedding from this area were Mrs. Edith Cochran of Alton; Mrs. James Ashlock and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hutchens of Kane; Mr. and Mrs. Oren Siebermann, Mrs. Eva Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Milnes and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Giller, Carrollton; Mrs. Neil Walker, White Hall and Mr. and Mrs. John Valentine, Kansas City.

WRONG TEAM PICKED

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Right in the middle of their spring practice the University of Michigan Wolverines were picked by the experts to win the Big Ten football championship this fall.

But the team running on the spring practice field was altogether different from that which will battle for the championship.

Missing because of participation in spring sports or other reasons were these standouts of the 1954 season: ends Ron Kramer and Tom Maenz, guards Jim Fox and Dick Hill, center Gene Snider, quarterback Lou Baldacci, and halfbacks Ed Hickey and Tony Branoff.

Johnson Definitely Favors Air Travel For Major League Teams

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Recurrent reports that big league baseball moguls may seek to ban air travel for their high priced diamond darlings drew a sniff of disbelief Wednesday from President Arnold Johnson of the Kansas City Athletics.

Working hard to get the transplanted A's going on the majors' westernmost flank, Johnson put himself on record as being definitely in favor of flying his club across the country whenever necessary or if air travel would be more restful for the players on a long trip. And from here to Boston, the easternmost outpost of the American League is roughly a 1500-mile jump.

Piersall, Red Sox Beat Indians 5-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Piersall doubled in the 12th and scored the winning run on an error Wednesday night as the Boston Red Sox beat Cleveland, 5-4, and dropped the Indians into third place.

Piersall, who got to third on an infield out, crossed the plate when Sam Dent muffed a grounder by Bill Klaus.

Gene Stephens hit a three-run homer for Boston after Billy Goodman and Klaus walked in the fifth. The other Boston run was in the second inning when Norm Zauchin and Grady Hatton singled and Piersall doubled.

Homers by Vic Wertz, Ralph Kiner and Al Rosen drove in the Cleveland runs. Wertz' sixth home run of the season came in the ninth, sending the game into extra innings.

Rosen connected in the sixth after Kiner reached first on an error. Kiner went around in the fourth.

For Rosen it was the seventh over-the-fence blow and for Kiner the eighth.

Leo Kiely, who relieved Bill Henry in the ninth, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Don Mossi, who took over after Bob Lemon was replaced by a pinch hitter in the eighth.

It was Cleveland's fifth loss in the last six games and left the Indians four percentage points behind the second place Chicago White Sox.

43,139 Watch Tigers Defeat Yankees 3-1

AD 43,139 WATCH 0009N N ...
DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers made only six hits but turned three of Bob Turley's 10 walks into runs Wednesday night and beat the New York Yankees 3-1 before 43,139 fans in Briggs Stadium.

Turley pitched the first six innings. He allowed five hits and struck out five—but witness cost him his third straight loss and made his season's record 8-4.

The defeat also cost the Yankees a chance to stretch their league lead, which remained at 4 1/2 games over the second place Chicago White Sox who lost an afternoon game.

Rookie Frank Lary went all the way for Detroit. He was touched for eight hits and walked four, but four doubleplays helped him out of frequent trouble. He now has a 6-5 record.

The Tigers in all received 14 walks, getting four from relief pitcher Tom Sturdivant who worked the last two innings.

The Yanks picked up a run in the third on Gil McDougald's single to left, a walk and Mickey Mantle's single between first and second.

The Tigers took the lead with two runs in the fourth. Turley walked the first three batters—Bob Wilson, Harry Malmberg and Lary—to fill the bases.

Wilson forced Lary at second and Malmberg came across on Bill Tuttle's line single to center.

Turley's wildness led to Detroit's third run in the sixth. He walked his rival pitcher for the second time and with one away Tuttle came through with his second single.

Al Kaline—whose hitting streak was stopped at 15 games—also walked, filling the bases. Then Lary scored when Ferris Fain grounded out to first baseman Eddie Robinson.

Just Let Him Try It Basilio Tells DeMarco Win Prognosticators

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Challenger Carmen Basilio used fighting words Wednesday to reply to predictions by Tony DeMarco's handlers that the champion would keep his title by a knockout Friday.

"Let him come in and try it," Basilio commented calmly. "Then he'll leave himself wide open."

Neither Basilio nor DeMarco are making any predictions themselves, except for exuding quiet confidence of victory. They are fighters who figure their fists will do the talking when they climb inside the War Memorial Ring here at 10 p.m. EST. Friday night.

Both closed out their heavy training Tuesday. Carmen has boxed a total of 200 rounds in getting ready for the championship. He looks fit and fast. He worked out on the big and small bags Wednesday, just to keep limbered up, and plans to run a couple of miles Thursday.

DeMarco, who will fly to Syracuse Thursday, also was down to the mere limbering up stage after sparring a total of 51 rounds at his training camp at Monticello.

He has looked strong and sharp and has been especially effective with good combinations featuring the solid work of his respected left hook.

The odds-makers in New York have made the challenger, in an unusual situation, the 17-10 favorite. Local acceptors of wagers have followed that lead. Some here just won't touch any Basilio money, according to avid followers of boxing.

Norm Rothschild, who is promoting the championship scrap in conjunction with the International Boxing Club, commented Wednesday: "I believe the crowd is going to see the fight of the year."

Archie didn't object to revealing how much he had weighed at various times. For instance, he said he weighed 212 when he started training for the Nino Valdez fight, and that he trained down from 203 to the light heavyweight limit of 175 for Joey Maxim.

"I have a system," he explained. "I've been in 1940 by a man in Australia, an aborigine, and he told me to go about it thusly. A lot of people would like to know it but I'm not giving it away."

"I think Olson is a man of great ability—as a middleweight," he said. "I haven't been able to find any weaknesses in his style. He's pretty clever."

Then he went into the ring and went through a prolonged shadow boxing drill, punching his shoulders and throwing short, rapid punches at an invisible opponent.

Somehow you got the idea that this time Moore isn't too far from 175 pounds, as this is one fight he can't lose.

"This is the one that opens the door," he said, meaning that if he goes through Rocky Marciano will be on the other side.

CALL OFF CIVIL DEFENSE DRILL
MILWAUKEE (AP)—A scheduled Civil Defense evacuation drill in which eight northern suburbs of Milwaukee were to take part has been called off because of lack of interest.

Officials said only 48 motorists volunteered to join in the drill. Plans had called for 1,000 cars to flee to Port Washington in an evacuation test in connection with a national Civil Defense exercise June 15.

The decision to abandon the project was reached Tuesday at a meeting of Civil Defense officials of the suburbs.

Ray W. Rose, Whitefish Bay Civil Defense director, said the evacuation plans were made because 75 per cent of the residents who answered a recent questionnaire said they would be willing to participate in such a test. That represented some 45,000 persons.

Jim Norris To Head Madison Square Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, will take over the presidency of Madison Square Garden Thursday in a move that has been contemplated for a long time, an informed source said Wednesday.

Norris will succeed Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, longtime head of the famous sporting arena. Kilpatrick in turn will become chairman of the board, replacing Bernard Gimbel, the department store magnate.

Gimbel, the source said, is resigning to cut down his outside interests. He also is resigning from the board of directors along with five others.

Kilpatrick declined to make any comment on the reported changes but said he and Norris would issue a joint statement later.

The other five resigning directors are Stanton Griffiths, a former chairman of the board, William Greve, Walter Chrysler Jr., Sidney J. Weinberg, and Jansen Noves.

"Norris has controlling interest in the garden," the source said, "and now is going to take over. The board is going to be cut from 15 directors to nine to make it more workable."

Norris and his partner, Arthur Wirtz, own the Chicago Stadium and his brothers and sister control the Detroit Olympia. The three arenas own the hockey clubs in those cities, giving the family control of three of the six teams in the National Hockey League.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants dispensed a two-run lead in the ninth inning Wednesday with a couple of errors but came back to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 5-4 in the 10th when pinch hitter Bobby Hofman singled home Alvin Dark with the deciding run.

An odd misplay by Harris, one rarely seen in a major league game, had prevented the Giants from winning in regulation time. Trailing 4-2 in the ninth, the Braves had loaded the bases with two out and a walk to George Crowe, a single by Del Crandall and a tumble by Alvin Dark of Andy Patko's easy roller.

Billy Bruton hit an easy ground-er down the first base line. Harris, playing in his seventh big league game, fielded it cleanly and apparently had Bruton beat to the bag for what should have been the third out. Unfortunately for Harris and the Giants, however, he dropped the ball while in flight.

Crowe scored on the error and the bases remained full. Mary Grissom, who had replaced starter Ruben Gomez on the mound, walked Johnny Logan to force in the tying run. Southpaw Windy McCall, the eventual winner, came in to retire Eddie Mathews on a ground-er.

SPORTS TRAIL
By WHITNEY MARTIN
SUMMIT, N. J. (AP)—You puff up a steep hill, pass a rocky shed from which sheep gaze curiously at the intruders and come to a low-slung building containing a boxing ring and a few benches.

This is the temporary business office of Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion who will defend his title against Middleweight Champion Bob Olson at the Polo Grounds June 22, and it also is the setting for a mystery.

Moore's weight is no mystery to him. He's the guy who put it there and he knows where and how much it is. But even his manager, Charley Johnston, blandly insists Moore hasn't confided in him.

Moore stood on a little punching bag platform, hemmed in by reporters who used everything but crowbars trying to pry his secret out of him.

"And why won't you tell how much you weigh?" a bystander asked with some exasperation. "Because if I revealed my weight, then everyone would know my weight."

You couldn't argue with that reasoning.

Trailing 4-2 in the ninth, the Braves had loaded the bases with two out and a walk to George Crowe, a single by Del Crandall and a tumble by Alvin Dark of Andy Patko's easy roller.

Billy Bruton hit an easy ground-er down the first base line. Harris, playing in his seventh big league game, fielded it cleanly and apparently had Bruton beat to the bag for what should have been the third out. Unfortunately for Harris and the Giants, however, he dropped the ball while in flight.

Crowe scored on the error and the bases remained full. Mary Grissom, who had replaced starter Ruben Gomez on the mound, walked Johnny Logan to force in the tying run. Southpaw Windy McCall, the eventual winner, came in to retire Eddie Mathews on a ground-er.

SPORTS TRAIL
By WHITNEY MARTIN
SUMMIT, N. J. (AP)—You puff up a steep hill, pass a rocky shed from which sheep gaze curiously at the intruders and come to a low-slung building containing a boxing ring and a few benches.

This is the temporary business office of Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion who will defend his title against Middleweight Champion Bob Olson at the Polo Grounds June 22, and it also is the setting for a mystery.

Moore's weight is no mystery to him. He's the guy who put it there and he knows where and how much it is. But even his manager, Charley Johnston, blandly insists Moore hasn't confided in him.

Moore stood on a little punching bag platform, hemmed in by reporters who used everything but crowbars trying to pry his secret out of him.

"And why won't you tell how much you weigh?" a bystander asked with some exasperation. "Because if I revealed my weight, then everyone would know my weight."

You couldn't argue with that reasoning.

Archie didn't object to revealing how much he had weighed at various times. For instance, he said he weighed 212 when he started training for the Nino Valdez fight, and that he trained down from 203 to the light heavyweight limit of 175 for Joey Maxim.

"I have a system," he explained. "I've been in 1940 by a man in Australia, an aborigine, and he told me to go about it thusly. A lot of people would like to know it but I'm not giving it away."

"I think Olson is a man of great ability—as a middleweight," he said. "I haven't been able to find any weaknesses in his style. He's pretty clever."

Then he went into the ring and went through a prolonged shadow boxing drill, punching his shoulders and throwing short, rapid punches at an invisible opponent.

Somehow you got the idea that this time Moore isn't too far from 175 pounds, as this is one fight he can't lose.

"This is the one that opens the door," he said, meaning that if he goes through Rocky Marciano will be on the other side.

CALL OFF CIVIL DEFENSE DRILL
MILWAUKEE (AP)—A scheduled Civil Defense evacuation drill in which eight northern suburbs of Milwaukee were to take part has been called off because of lack of interest.

Officials said only 48 motorists volunteered to join in the drill. Plans had called for 1,000 cars to flee to Port Washington in an evacuation test in connection with a national Civil Defense exercise June 15.

The decision to abandon the project was reached Tuesday at a meeting of Civil Defense officials of the suburbs.

Ray W. Rose, Whitefish Bay Civil Defense director, said the evacuation plans were made because 75 per cent of the residents who answered a recent questionnaire said they would be willing to participate in such a test. That represented some 45,000 persons.

Jim Norris To Head Madison Square Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, will take over the presidency of Madison Square Garden Thursday in a move that has been contemplated for a long time, an informed source said Wednesday.

Norris will succeed Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, longtime head of the famous sporting arena. Kilpatrick in turn will become chairman of the board, replacing Bernard Gimbel, the department store magnate.

Gimbel, the source said, is resigning to cut down his outside interests. He also is resigning from the board of directors along with five others.

Kilpatrick declined to make any comment on the reported changes but said he and Norris would issue a joint statement later.

The other five resigning directors are Stanton Griffiths, a former chairman of the board, William Greve, Walter Chrysler Jr., Sidney J. Weinberg, and Jansen Noves.

"Norris has controlling interest in the garden," the source said, "and now is going to take over. The board is going to be cut from 15 directors to nine to make it more workable."

Norris and his partner, Arthur Wirtz, own the Chicago Stadium and his brothers and sister control the Detroit Olympia. The three arenas own the hockey clubs in those cities, giving the family control of three of the six teams in the National Hockey League.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants dispensed a two-run lead in the ninth inning Wednesday with a couple of errors but came back to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 5-4 in the 10th when pinch hitter Bobby Hofman singled home Alvin Dark with the deciding run.

An odd misplay by Harris, one rarely seen in a major league game, had prevented the Giants from winning in regulation time. Trailing 4-2 in the ninth, the Braves had loaded the bases with two out and a walk to George Crowe, a single by Del Crandall and a tumble by Alvin Dark of Andy Patko's easy roller.

Billy Bruton hit an easy ground-er down the first base line. Harris, playing in his seventh big league game, fielded it cleanly and apparently had Bruton beat to the bag for what should have been the third out. Unfortunately for Harris and the Giants, however, he dropped the ball while in flight.

Dodgers' Newcombe Pitches 4-Hit 3-1 Victory Over Redlegs

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn's big left, Newcombe, HR—Kluszewski, Don Newcombe, still unbeaten, breezed in as the first pitcher to win 10 games in the major leagues this season with a masterful four-hit, 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs in rain and cold Wednesday night.

The 6-4 righthander, who had only a 9-8 record after returning from service last season, pitched perfect ball over the last five innings. He didn't give up a walk all night, struck out seven and retired the last 16 men he faced.

It was Newcombe all the way. The big guy, who bats left handed, smacked a single and a double, figuring in two of the Brooks' runs, as the Dodgers sent Gerry Staley to his fourth defeat against four victories with a 10-hit attack.

The only lapse he suffered was a fourth-inning pitch that Ted Kluszewski hammered against the wind and over the right field screen. It was his 16th homer of the season.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The corporate bond market climbed in heavy trading Wednesday. Convertible steel and oil debentures were especially strong.

U. S. government bonds were steady to slightly higher in slow over the counter dealings. The 40-year 3s rose 3/8 at 101 12-32 bid and the 30-year 3 1/4s at 107 4-32 bid were up 2-32. The 2 1/2s of 1963 also advanced 2-32 at 98 22-32 bid.

The Associated Press average of foreign bonds touched a new 1955 high for the second day in a row. "Big Board" volume soared to $5,700,000 par value, highest since Jan. 10, when sales totaled $5,887,000. Tuesday, volume amounted to $5,520,000.

Railroads and industrials were generally higher. Some income and convertible issues climbed briskly. Investment quality utilities were irregular.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The third straight new record high mark was established Wednesday by a moderately advancing stock market.

Strong gains by a sizable list of individual issues were a feature of the session.

It also was marked by considerable irregularity, particularly in the railroad division. Brokers have been looking to the railroads to produce a strong showing to back the rise of the rest of the market. The rails so far have refused to accommodate.

Prices were up 1 to around 3 points and on out to around 6 points. Losses usually were cut off around a point.

The aluminum, other nonferrous metals, steels, airlines, and aircraft all had a hand in the push forward.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 80 cents at $169.00. It was ahead $1.00 Tuesday and 60 cents Monday. The industrial component of the average was up $1.50 at a new high of $229.20, and the utilities were up 30 cents at a new high since 1930 of $73.20, but the railroads remained unchanged at $137.20 slightly below the high of $137.60.

Last April 26 the stock market attained a new high mark, and then it dropped away in a consolidating reaction that ended Monday when it managed to surpass the old high.

The advance Tuesday and Wednesday was accomplished on much heavier volume than in recent sessions. Wednesday it came to 3,300,000 shares as against 3,230,000 shares traded Tuesday. The totals are the best since March 30.

There were 1,212 individual issues traded of which 535 advanced and 428 declined with 81 new highs and 11 new lows for the year touched.

PRESSURE PUSHES GRAIN PRICES DOWN

By LAWRENCE N. ELDRED
CHICAGO (AP)—Grain trading dawdled along on a quiet and fairly even path for most of the session on the Board of Trade Wednesday, only to weaken quickly toward the close. Soybeans and lard held up under pressure.

Rye was first to fall, set back by reports the new crop is showing good growth and moisture conditions are considered fairly adequate.

Wheat reacted lower to clearing skies in the southwestern harvest area and a lack of appreciable exports. Corn was easy much of the day on further crop improvement reports.

Oats stood alone in resisting the loss trend, influenced by producing area reports. Some fields reportedly are quite weedy. Others have been plowed under in favor of corn or soybeans. In still others the grain is being baled because of too light heading.

At the close wheat was 3/8-1/2 cents lower, corn 3/8-1/4 down, oats 3/8 higher to 1/4 lower and rye 1 1/2-1 3/4 lower. Soybeans were unchanged to 1/2 cent higher and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher.

A major prop under soybeans—which also are reported doing well in new-crop prospects—was the strength displayed in crude soybean oil. Refiners advanced cash oil another 1/4 cent a pound.

Losses in soybean futures extended to nearly $1.50 a ton had no pronounced effect on raw beans. Japan bought 100,000 bushels of soybeans in the wake of rejecting offers by Red China of 50,000 tons earlier in the week because of high price and an unfavorable balance of trade.

Peru took one cargo of wheat and small amounts of corn and soybeans went to the European continent.

Trade opinion was expressed in some quarters that Friday's government crop estimate on wheat might not prove as severely cut as a private estimate earlier in the week would indicate. The report is especially important since Secretary of Agriculture Benson will use it as a basis for establishing 1956 wheat supports.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—Live hogs turned steady to 25 cents higher Wednesday after a one-day lapse into lower prices. Cattle were uneven, ranging from 50 cents lower on better grades of heavy heifers to 25 higher on cows. Lambs gained another 25 to 50 cents.

Outside order buyers accounted for 3,500 of the expected 9,000 hogs on sale. This gave good clearance to choice butchers at $16.75 to $20.00 and sows at $12.50 to $16.25 in most sales. A practical top on butchers was set at $20.15 on a deck while a few extra light sows went as high as $16.75.

Good to prime steers and yearlings brought $18.00 to $25.75, comparable heifers $18.50 to $24.00. Commercial cows were $14.50 and less and like grade bulls $16.50 downward. Salable cattle were estimated at 15,000 head.

Vealers were steady at $25.00 and under on an estimated 400 hundred head on sale. Good to prime spring lambs among the 1,000 sheep received sold from $23.00 to $25.50. A deck of mostly choice shorn heads $20.75. Good shorn slaughter ewes were the best on hand, bringing $5.50.

Eisenhower Likes Job Of President

right along.

It even included a brief stop for a bit of political science discussion.

This came when Eisenhower was asked why a three-day time limit had been suggested for the so-called Big Four conference.

Well, Eisenhower said, that was because a president isn't as free as a prime minister. There are constitutional limits on how long he can be away.

He didn't elaborate, but Eisenhower was pointing out a difference that possibly you never thought of. A prime minister usually is in both the legislative and the executive end of the business.

When he's away being an executive, he also can see to it that Parliament doesn't bring up anything that needs his personal attention.

18 Southern Illinois State Parks Show Historic, Beauty Interests

(Editor's Note: Here's the second and concluding article outlining features of Illinois' 41 principal state parks, memorials and conservation areas. This article deals with facilities in southern Illinois.)

By CHARLES BANKS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Nature didn't short change southern Illinois.

And where Nature stopped, the State of Illinois stepped in with a helping hand. The net result is eighteen state parks, conservation areas and memorials south of a line through Springfield bisecting Illinois. That's just five less than northern Illinois' share of the state's total 41 offerings.

The tourists' attractions in southern Illinois are less widespread than their northern counterparts. For example, eight are found in two clusters of four each. Three other areas offer two attractions each. One section invites visitors to three separate recreation spots. Only the Vandalia state house is off by itself.

Its clustered arrangement is not without advantages. It permits tourists to spend a full day — if not an entire weekend — at as many as four attractions in the same immediate area.

Nearly all major parks or conservation areas offer weekend accommodations. These include camping sites (tent or trailer), overnight cabins and facilities for purchased or tourist-prepared meals. Most conservation areas likewise provide the where-with-all for boating and fishing.

The most popular spot in southern Illinois and second in the state is Grand Marais Conservation Area. The so-called playground of East St. Louis and vicinity attracted 814,078 visitors last year. Its lakes for fishing and boating, a golf course, picnic grounds and horseback riding accommodations prove an almost irresistible lure.

Completing the cluster of four attractions in the Alton-East St. Louis area are Pere Marquette and Cahokia Mounds State Parks and Cahokia court house.

Pere Marquette, near Grafton, is the largest state park with 5,179 acres. Its dual offering of history and natural beauty combined last year to draw a shade more than a half million people. The spot commemorates the entrance into Illinois of Father Jacques Marquette in 1673.

A few miles north is Cahokia Mounds. There lie symmetrical and flat-topped mounds. Each contains relics of an ancient Indian civilization which dwelled there a century or more before Columbus' time. Nearby is Cahokia court house, perhaps the oldest standing structure in Illinois. It dates to 1737.

A flashback into the days when Illinois was ruled by either the French or British is afforded the tourist who ventures into Randolph County. There, butted against the Mississippi River, are Fort Kaskaskia and Fort Chartres State Memorials. The authentically reconstructed stone gateway to Fort Chartres is a "must" for pupils of Illinois history.

In the heart of "Little Egypt" are four scenic spots. Each is but a short jaunt from the others. The largest is Giant City State Park.

The amazing rock formation, south of Carbondale, is a maze of huge blocks of stone. Imagination brought the park its name. The huge stone blocks, aligned as though on a street, prompted people to feel that only a "giant" could construct such a city. So it came to be known as "Giant City."

Rivaling as a top attraction is Fort Massac State Memorial. Its centerpiece, a statue of explorer George Rogers Clark, looks out across the Ohio River into Kentucky. The old fort compound and the moat around it are restored somewhat.

Fern Clyffe and Dixon Springs State Park emphasize age — old rock formations prevalent in the same area. Dixon Springs, a former resort, boasts more than 1,500 waterfalls of varying size.

Hugging the Ohio River shore in Hardin County is fabled Cave-in-Rock State Park. Partially concealed in a huge cliff overlooking the river is a cave. It stretches 108 feet to its innermost point. History has it that river pirates of a long ago era used it as a hideaway. There, history records, the pirates slaughtered some riverboat pilots.

A short distance south is Shawneetown State Memorial. The town reached its greatest heights in the 19th century through Ohio River traffic. It was the then Chicago to the Midwest's earliest settlers.

In the Lawrenceville area along the Ohio stands the Lincoln trail monument. It marks the entrance of the Lincoln family into Illinois in 1830. Just west is Red Hills Conservation Area. One of the newest state attractions, it offers ample recreational and picnic facilities in a rolling, wooded landscape.

In Coles County are Fox River Conservation Area and the Lincoln log cabin. Fox Ridge, a sharp contrast to flat prairies of east-central Illinois, rises from the banks of the Embarras River. Boating and fishing opportunities are first rate.

The Lincoln cabin is the last home built and occupied by the Civil War president's father, Thomas. Built in 1837, it was dismantled and shipped to Chicago in 1893 for the Columbia Exposition. But for some reason, all trace was then lost. It since has been minutely reconstructed.

Near Mount Zion in Macon County is Spiller Woods Conservation

Area. It offers a true view of the "forest primeval." At Vandalia is the state house, second capital of Illinois. Lincoln began his legislative career there.

Lynnville Society Meets At Home Of Mrs. Sallie Heaton

The June meeting of the Lynnville Christian church Missionary society was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sallie Heaton. The president, Mrs. Harold Hamel, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Jack McNelly gave interesting devotions. Mrs. Earl Hempel was the program leader and interviewed Gertrude Dodswoth and Margaret Heaton in costume.

who were representing student guests from India. The interviews gleaned much of interest from their representative country and the ways of life in India.

The secretary, Augusta Hempel, read the minutes of the May meeting. Eleven members responded to roll call. There were several guests. Mrs. Thompson, district secretary, was present and told of the change made in the society's reading plans and also of the society's Love Gift Project. The sum of $9.208 was given last year. The Love Gifts will be the same national project next year. The society presented Mrs. Thompson with a token of appreciation.

Mrs. Lloyd Gordon played a piano solo. The new officers were installed and Mrs. Thompson conducted most impressive and inspiring installation services.

Mrs. Heaton and daughters served refreshments during the social hour.

THE WIND STORM OF MAY 26th WAS PROOF OF THE PUDDING

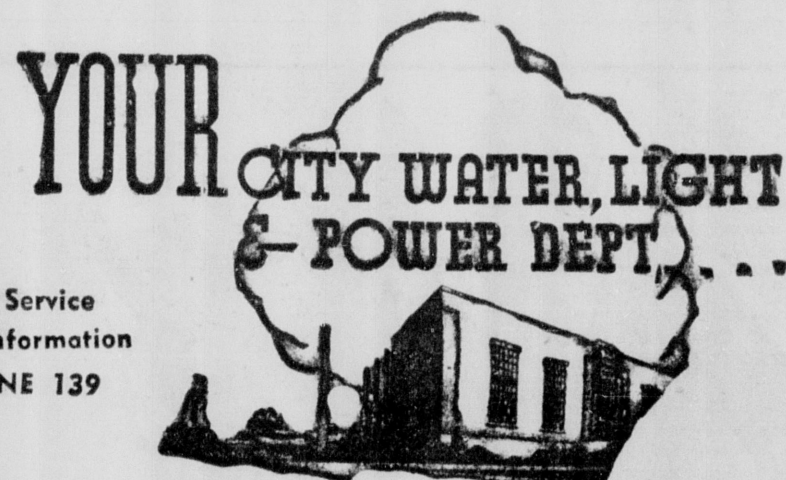

During the past several months, our crews have been engaged in repairing, improving, and trimming branches from our power distribution lines.

This planning paid off when the storm struck. Our lines suffered very little damage although trees and branches fell all around.

True, a very small portion of customers did experience a short interruption of service; but service was quickly restored.

This is factual proof that you can expect superior electrical power and service in the near future from your City Water, Light, and Power Dept.

The Slender Figure

Today's refreshment
...Light refreshment

TODAY'S stylists are doing wonders for the looks of modern woman. But give some credit, too, to the woman herself. For the modern figure is her own creation.

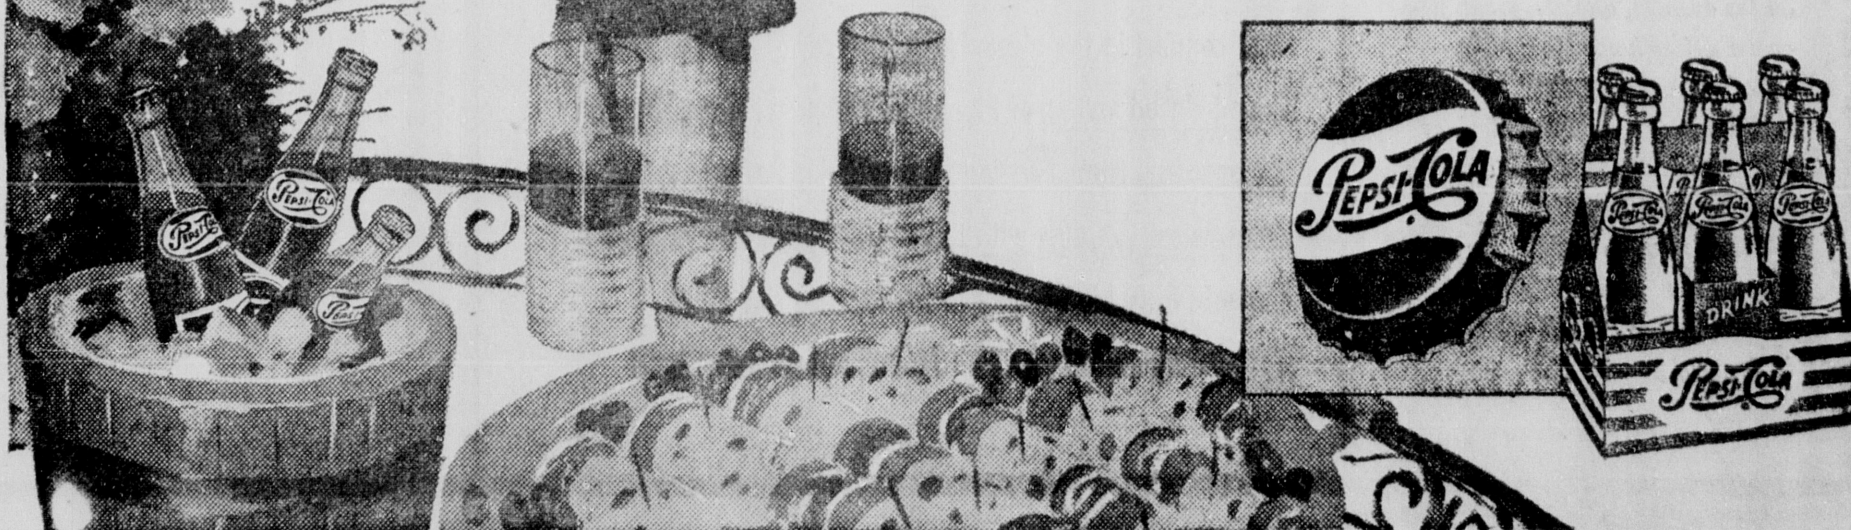

Her greatest care and pride is to keep that figure young. Her taste, therefore, is for lighter foods and lighter beverages.

This is the modern trend with which Pepsi-Cola, too, has steadily kept pace. That's why today's Pepsi is light, dry (not too sweet), reduced in calories—and more popular than ever!

It is the modern, the light refreshment, made for modern taste. Pepsi-Cola refreshes without filling. Have a Pepsi.

Bride Of Former White Hall Man

RUTH WILEY WEDS WAYNE A. CHRISTISON

In an impressive and beautiful candlelight service at two o'clock last Saturday afternoon, June 4, at St. John's Methodist church in St.
Louis, Missouri, Miss Ruth Wiley became the bride of Wayne A.
Christison.

The bride is the daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. William Wiley of Grub-ville, Mo., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elmer Christison of White Hall and the late Mr. Christison.

Preceding the ceremony an organ recital of nuptial favorites and the traditional wedding march were played. Miss Jean Comfort sang two numbers, "At Dawning" and "I Love Thee" before the service and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" just as the couple knelt at the altar. Palms and vases of white gladioli and snapdragons decorated the church altar.

The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church.

Miss Rose Ravenscraft attended the bride as maid of honor and Mrs. Rose Goldschmidt was the bridesmatron.

First Lieutenant Ralph W. Christison attended his brother as best man. Thomas Allen was groomsmen and Melvin Kern and Robert North were ushers.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace and tulle. The fitted bodice featured a V shape neckline and she wore mits of matching white lace. Her fingertip length veil was held in place with a dainty leaf crown. She carried a bouquet of lily-of-the-valley centered with an orchid.

The maid of honor and the brides-matron's gowns were styled identical of silk and tulle. Miss Ravens-craft wore pastel pink and Mrs.
Goldschmidt was in aqua. They were ballerina length dresses and each attendant wore a headband matching the shade of her gown. Each carried a colonial bouquet of American beauty roses.

Mrs. Christison of White Hall, mother of the bridegroom, wore a sheer navy blue dress with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Reception At Hotel

A reception was held at the Gatesworthy hotel following the ceremony for the wedding party and friends of the family.

Mrs. Christison graduated from the Hillsboro, Illinois high school and is at present employed in the office of the St. Louis Ordnance district. Mr. Christison graduated from the White Hall high school, is a World War Two veteran and employed as a meat buyer for the Kroger company out of St. Louis.
After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will make their home at 5588 Waterman street in St. Louis.

Rainmaking Is Considered By Federal Group

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the lingo of weather forecasting, the outlook as to whether man can tinker with the weather on a practical, economic scale "is still unsettled."

That's the present summary from officials of the government's Advisory Committee on Weather Control, which for almost a year has been seeking to evaluate commercial projects and laboratory and field experiments in the realm of artificial rainmaking—or "rain increasing" as the committee prefers to call it.

Charles Gardner Jr., executive secretary of the committee, also says:

"We are not pessimistic that there's no chance of definite evidence being established that so-called rainmaking is capable of being applied on a scale of economic importance to the nation in terms of increased hydroelectric production, increased agricultural production, increased grazing land yield, and other industrial and municipal benefits."

"What we are saying is that stage of our investigations is that while we have firm opinions from both responsible operators in the commercial field and from some scientists that economically significant increases in rainfall are possible by artificial means, definite, scientific proof has not yet been established one way or the other."

Gardner says the committee expects to have "reasonable definite and positive answers" for Congress about a year from now.
Gardner says that while experiments in rainmaking started almost nine years ago, "we do not have answers to some very basic and seemingly simple questions about the commercial-type operations."

He says that when the advisory committee first tackled its evaluating job almost a year ago, some experimenters felt that increases in rainfall, through artificial cloud-seeding, could average between 50 and 100 per cent.

But the committee feels today, he said, that if evidence is really obtained that rainmaking is achievable on a practical scale, the average increase will probably be shown to be "not be higher than 30 per cent."

"But increases of the magnitude of 5 per cent or 10 per cent," he said, "can produce consequences of tremendous significance to the economy of the nation."

"We figure that increases of 20 per cent or more may very easily produce benefit-cost ratios running up to 300 to 1 which is, of course, very far in excess of any benefit-cost ratio which can be anticipated for any ordinary water-resources development or conservation project."

ENTERTAIN RELATIVES NEAR WINCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mitchell of Winchester route 3 entertained several relatives during the weekend, including three of their grandsons, Bill Mitchell and wife of California; James Spencer, a student at the University of Illinois, and Eugene Curtis of Jacksonville.

Other guests at the Mitchell home were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell and son Allen of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson of Roodhouse.

Up to $8.95 sheer summer dresses in half sizes and large sizes to 48 now only $5.

Death Has 3 Lives

THE STORY: Unwittingly
Private Detective Mike Shayne aided Jack Bristow, a murder suspect, escape arrest. Later, under the bed in the apartment of Lucy Hamilton, Shayne's acquaintance, he found a woman who says she is "Mrs. Pete Smith."
Visiting the scene, Mike finds a woman who says she is "Mrs. Pete Smith." She is penniless and Mike finds her quarters in a notorious phone call, threatening exposure by this woman unless he turns over some "cash."

XV
FOR the first time since the telephone conversation began there was a slight note of uncertainty in the voice. "How much did Jack tell you about things?"

"Nothing at all about any money."

"Could be you're leveling," the man conceded grudgingly. "They say you're a smart cookie, and I don't believe you'd try to bluff against the hand I hold. That means your secretary double-crossed you, Shamus. If you haven't got the money, she has.
And either I get it fast or the cops get you. I'm not fooling.
You hold out the money and I take it on the lam and turn Beatrice loose to sing her song.
Your lousy neck is worth the 80 grand you or your secretary lifted off Jack tonight."

"Eighty grand?" repeated
Shayne in disbelief.

"Maybe not on the head.
Something near that. I won't be tough on you. Say 70 for me.
You keep whatever was over that and no questions asked.
What could be fairer?"

"If there were any such sum floating around, I might agree with you. But I say there isn't."

"It's just too bad for you if you don't dig it up, chum. It's 10:30 now. I give you just one hour to come across. Here's the way it'll be. Listen hard and don't argue, because there won't be any ifs." Shayne held the receiver to his ear in grim silence and waited for the caller to continue.

"I've got a place I'm stashing Beatrice where she'll stay put for a couple hours. Say 1 o'clock for the deadline. I'll fix it so if anything happens to me, the police will find her at 1 o'clock.
You got that straight?"

"You get to her first if you cough up the dough by 11:30.
You still with me?"

"I'm listening."

"Go to the Hamilton girl's apartment and fix up a nice little bundle. Have her walk out the door with it at exactly 11:30.
She walks straight to Thirteenth Street and heads across the Causeway. Several guys may stop to pick her up. She says no and keeps walking. Until one of the cars stops and the door opens and I tell her, 'Throw it in, Sister.' She throws it in and I keep driving. You be waiting at your phone right where you are now. If the money is okay, I'll call you before midnight to tell you where to find Beatrice and shut her up any way you want to. If not, she'll be spilling the whole story to the cops at 1 o'clock. You got all that straight?"

"I've got it."

The telephone clicked decisively at the other end of the line.

TIMOTHY ROURKE, who had listened to Shayne's end of the long conversation with intense interest, could contain his excitement no longer. "You look like an atomic bomb had exploded inside your belly."

"I feel sort of like it had."

He lifted the phone and asked the switchboard for Lucy Hamilton's number. When her voice came over the wire, he said,
"Everything all right, Lucy?"

"Yes, Michael. I've been wondering."

"Stop wondering and listen to me. This is dead serious, Angel.
Did Jack Bristow say one word to you that you didn't repeat to me?"

"No. Maybe I didn't repeat every word verbatim, but I left nothing out."

"Sure about that, Lucy? Not a word about any sizable amount of money?"

"Not a word, Michael."

"All right. Do this fast. Search every possible place to which he had access where he might have hidden a small package. Or a money-belt. Call me back the moment you can say positively he didn't stash anything there."

Shayne hung up and told Rourke: "I don't know who telephoned me. Here's what he said."

HE went on to relate in terse sentences the gist of the stranger's statements and threats.

When Shayne completed his recital, he exclaimed, "What are we going to do? Who is he and how did he get onto everything so fast?"

"I don't think that matters so much now. Could be some guy who saw Jack enter Lucy's building. A professional job of tailing if he did. One of Gentry's cops, maybe, with sticky fingers."

"But how would he know about the money Bristow was supposed to be carrying? Eighty thousand dollars! That has a familiar ring to me. So does the name Allerdice."

"We've got less than an hour."

"He figured it smart, Mike.
There's no place for anyone to hide along the Causeway. You can't follow a car without being conspicuous. Once anyone starts across the Causeway, it's three miles to the Beach and most anyone will offer her a ride.
Half of them will pull up and open the door on her side as she plans to do. If you get the whole police force out to patrol the Causeway, they'd have to start chasing and stopping every car that paused beside her."

Charge Jealous Husband Set Fire That Killed Four

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A jealous former husband was charged Tuesday with the murder of four children who died in a burning house.

Detective Lt. James R. Beach said 33-year-old Amos Wilmer Thomas signed a statement saying he set the fire to get even with his former wife Annie Lee Thomas, two of whose children were killed in the blaze Friday night.

Thomas pleaded innocent at his arraignment, however, and asked for a preliminary hearing. No date was set.

Justice of the Peace Eugene G. Duckworth said three warrants charging murder in the perpetration of arson were filed. The warrants accuse Thomas of the deaths of Dewitt Roundtree, 10, and Linda Joyce Roundtree, 1, children of Mrs. Thomas; Eddie Lee Roundtree, 10, and Freddie Lee Roundtree, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roundtree, grandparents of Dewitt and Linda Joyce.

Beach said Thomas, a Negro, told authorities he slipped into his former wife's bedroom, poured gasoline on the floor, ignited it and ran out. He later joined the crowd watching the blaze.

Screams of the children awakened Roundtree, 48, who was sleeping on the second floor of the frame house, and he rescued one grandchild, Juanita Roundtree, but flames prevented him from reaching the others. His wife and Mrs. Thomas also escaped.

None Claims Body Of Death House's 'Strangest Inmate'

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—There was nobody to claim the body today of the man death house guards called their "strangest prisoner."

He was William Henry Meyer, 65, who died at 12:06 a.m. in the state's electric chair for the murder of his daughter. One of the oldest men ever to be executed in Texas, Meyer went to his death as unafraid as he was unwanted, witnesses said.

"In the name of the Father, the Lord and the Holy Ghost," he was heard to mutter as death chamber attendants placed a black hood over his head.

"Those were his only last words," a newsman witness reported.

Meyer who had received no letters and written none since becoming prisoner in the penitentiary here made none of the usual "last requests" traditional with condemned men. He also refused to order the usual sumptuous last meal.

Guards who called him their "strangest, coolest customer" said he cooperated with them perfectly. They tagged him "the man with the iron nerve."

A prison chaplain and a doctor tried at the last minute to get him a stay of execution. "I don't want a stay," Meyer said. "I'm ready to go."

He was attempting to shoot his estranged wife June 12, 1953, when his daughter, Mrs. Elsie Yearwood of Houston, was fatally shot. The two women, terrified, were huddled behind a door at the home of another of Meyer's daughters. His third shot through the door killed Mrs. Yearwood.

His wife's claim in a divorce petition that he hit her with a rock was untrue, Meyer said. To a claim that he struck her with a chair, he said:

"I don't remember that, but I did slap her a little."

Only one person—a brother-in-law—visited Meyer during his long wait for death. Tuesday night relatives told prison officials they did not want his body sent home.

"I was married 43 years," Meyer told a reporter Tuesday. "I had hell for 42 of them."

"MY FOOT ITCHES"—Visited by a friend in a Winfield, Kan., hospital, that's what three-year-old Connie Ruth Lawson, victim of the tornado that blew her home town of Udall to pieces, told the friend. But the foot Connie complained of wasn't there. It had been amputated. The little girl lay in the hospital not knowing that her mother and four others of her family had been buried in the Udall cemetery. Her father, also a tornado victim, is alive in a Wichita hospital.
